The citizenship award went to Henrietta Loeffler and the membership award, to Mrs. Frank Regan. Mrs. John Milam received an award for her poem in the creative writing division.

Mrs. Waite and Lenelle Frye, newly-elected first vice president, recently attended the California State Convention of Women's Clubs in Palo Alto. The General Convention will be in Seattle, Wash. during June.

The annual Civic Day Luncheon and program was also hosted at the club house recently with Mrs. Harold Shepherd, chairman.

Mrs. Waite welcomed guests and members, Mrs. Harry Russell gave the inspirational and Mrs. Loeffler led the pledge of allegiance.

After luncheon, Mrs. Shepherd introduced each of the guests who included city officials, heads of departments, city council members and school officials. A club member was hostess for each guest.

Jack Saelid, Arcadia's mayor, gave a short speech of appreciation and mentioned that the Woman's Club had evolved from a small organization of about 15 women called the Cooperative Arcadians.

Mrs. Waite gave a plaque to Paul Gaynor, a senior at Arcadia High School, who was a speech contestant of the Arcadia Club at the District Fine Arts Festival.

Mrs. Shepherd introduced Major Donald J. Foley of the California National Guard, who told about the duties of the men in the organization. He also said that the Bear Flag became the California state symbol after seen other flags had flown over the state and a guardsman brought in each of these flags for display.

Mrs. Waite conducted a brief business meeting and Mrs. Loeffler agreed to be the senior trustee for the coming club year.

Installation of officers will be at 1 p.m. on Wednesday, June 1, at the clubhouse. There will be a short business meeting and installation, followed by a tea, of which Mrs. Walter Genuit will be chairman.

Juniors Plan Gamble House Tour Outing

ARCADIA -- The Arcadia Junior Woman's Club are planning a social outing to the Gamble House in Pasadena on Thursday, May 26. Members will meet at Dawnelle Harrison's, federation chairman, for coffee before leaving for Pasadena to take the tour.

The David S. Gamble House is the most complete and best preserved example of the work of the internationally noted Pasadena architectural firm of Greene and Greene.

Junior members will have the pleasure of seeing a house built in 1908, during the architects' most productive period, showing a high level of California bungalow style where the architects used solid teakwood, mahogany, maple and cedar throughout. The house was presented to the City of Pasadena so more could enjoy its educational and cultural heritage and historic preservation.

The Arcadia Juniors is a Californias Federated Woman's Club (CFWC), Junior Membership, for all women between the ages of 18 to 35. The objectives of the local philanthropic group are charitable, literary and educational service to the community.

Anyone wishing further information about the club may contact Mrs. Vicki Banks, membership chairman, at 445-0207.

Woman's Club Bridgefest Day

ARCADIA -- The Woman's Club of Arcadia, Verdugo District, CFWC, will hold their last bridgefest day for the club year on Wednesday, May 18. Luncheon will be served at 11:30 a.m.

Installation of officers will be held on Wednesday, June 1, at 1 p.m., also at the club house. There will be a short business meeting followed by a tea chaired by Mrs. Walter Genult.

Club 'shines' with funds, services

In keeping with her theme, "This Little Light of Mine," Marilyn Daleo, president of the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club, has announced that members have been "shining a little light" in various ways in their community.

A check for $110 was given to the Campership Fund by Jill Beley, Build-A-Better-Community chairman, at the June Coordinating Council meeting. Juniors helped with the Arcadia Recreation Department's Campership sign-ups, under the Family Living chairmanship of Florence Kraft. Sue Newton and Dawnelle Harrison acted as judges at the Senior Citizens' Olympics, sponsored recently by the Arcadia Recreation Department.

As a fund, fund-raising event, members have a bowling league and recently gave gifts, as a token of their appreciation, to Mmes. East and Knight, who have taken care of pre-schoolers in the Santa Anita Bowl playroom.

Mrs. Beley was in charge of the project in which the club's members saved newspapers and donated them to the Arcadia High School students, who are members of the Arcadia Soccer Club to help in efforts to raise money for expenses to compete in Ireland this summer.

Romilda Lovrensky, education chairman, is continuing to collect various items from members to be donated to the Pasadena City College Parent Participation Program.

Officers and department chairmen of the club recently attended the Verdugo-Metropolitan District, California Federated Women's Club, Junior Membership, workshops. District board members gave information to members of the 10 junior clubs in the district.

Mmes. Lovrensky and Beley, members of the Arcadia club and district co-federation chairmen, conducted one of the workshops.

Arcadia Juniors Donate Items To PCC Education Program

ARCADIA – Members of the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club recently presented craft materials and educational toys they had collected, to Pauline Crabb, director of the Pasadena City College Parent Education Program.

The assorted craft materials included greeting cards, felt, material, broken jewelry, construction paper, butter tubs with lids, buttons, thread spools, baby food jars and various other household items.

The PCC Parent Education Program is open to all parents of children from birth to school age in the Pasadena Junior College District. Free classes are located throughout the area and provides an educational experience for the 2,000 parents that enroll and their children. In the program, it is the parent that is the student. The parent observes the child's behavior as they participate in planned nursery school experience.

The Arcadia Juniors work in many different areas in the community, education is only one. Any young woman between 18 and 35 who is interested in participating in the projects, may call Vicki Banks, membership chairman, at 445-0207.

EDUCATIONAL DONATIONS.....Scott Thrun, 3; Michael Nauertz, 4; Pauline Crabb, director of the Pasadena City College Parent Education Program; and Nina Thrum and her 2-year old daughter Cheryl, play with some of the toys that the Arcadia Junior's have donated to the PCC program.

Luau opens year at Woman's Club

Members of the Woman's Club of Arcadia opened the new season with a luau, all proceeds of the evening earmarked for the club's philanthropic projects.

Arranged by the ways and means committee, the event included a buffet dinner, musical entertainment, awarding of prizes, and dancing.

Many club members helped prepare the food, made decorations for the yard, table and stage, set tables and sold tickets. Husbands also helped by serving at the "no host" bar.

Lee Roberts and his musicians from the Eddie House Band entertained and played music from the "big band days" for dancing.

Many door prizes were given away, with Winifred Nelson taking home the big prize — a money tree.

Members who worked on the project were Mrs. B. Pierson Waite, president; Mmes. Lenelle Fry, Annette Becker, William Quon, Louis Taylor, Henrietta Loeffler, Leo Schmadan, Dale Patterson, James Brown, Michael Erickson, Frederick Kuhn, W. P. Johnson, Ada Penny, Ray Kennett, Estella Knox, Gene Lovegreen, Neta Ames and Harry Walker.

Juniors work for annual health fair

The Arcadia Junior Woman's Club and Methodist Hospital of Southern California will co-sponsor the third annual Health Fair at Santa Anita Fashion Park, tomorrow through Sunday.

The club won a first place Health Award at the Verdugo-Metropolitan District Convention, California Federation of Women's Clubs, Junior Membership, for the past two years because of their work in coordinating the Health Fair.

Caren Laing, health chairman of the club, and her assistant, Denise Hall, have been meeting with Marilyn Morrison, community relations director of the hospital, and Fashion Park personnel to formulate plans for this event.

Also, members of the club called the 50 health agencies, which participated last year and this was followed by sending letters to all those who expressed a desire to participate again this year. They also sent letters to senior citizens' groups and local churches so that their members would learn of the free services, which will be offered at the fair.

Juniors hosted the "Participants Meeting" and passed out information sheets and name tags. Mrs. Laing explained location sites to all aggency representatives.

During the three-day, 25-hour fair, members will staff the information booth, act as hostesses, assist with the immunization clinics and replace agency workers for their breaks.

The club is for women, between 18 and 35, who are interested in giving charitable, literary and educational services to the community. Anyone who wants more information may call Vicki Banks, membership chairman, at 445-0207.

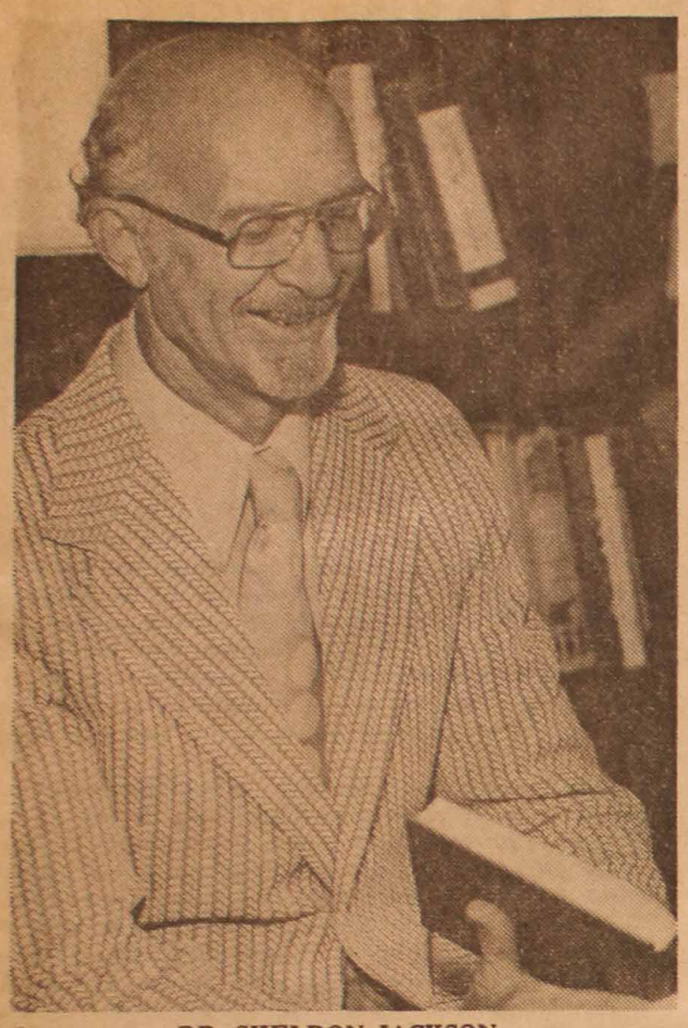
'Meet the Authors' luncheon set



DR. SHELDON JACKSON

JOHN KIMBRO

"Meet the Authors," an annual community event sponsored by the literature division of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will present three well-known authors Wednesday, Feb. 8, at a noon luncheon at the clubhouse, 324 S. First Ave. Dr. Sheldon Jackson, Bettyann Kevles and John M. Kimbro will make up the panel.

Dr. Sheldon Jackson

Dr. Jackson, professor of history at Azusa Pacific College, is the author of many articles. His newest book, "A British Ranchero in Old Calilfornia," deals with the exciting times of Henry Dalton during the early days of the Rancho Azusa. Dr. E. Sago, president of Azusa Pacific states, "We are proud of Dr. Jackson's scholarly achievement in publishing this important work on Henry Dalton, the first ever." Dalton was an Englishman with a variety of activities in his life ranging from trader and smuggler, land speculator and farmer to Cattleman and wine-maker.

The author is a former resident of Haviland, Kan., where he served as president of Friends Bible College. He received his graduate degrees from the University of Kansas where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, and from USC.

Bettyann Kevles

Bettyann Kevles was born in New York City. She began her writing career as a teenage columnist for "Young Set" magazine, continuing writing during her years at Vassar, at Oxford in England, where she was married, and at Princeton.

BETTYANN KEVLES

Ever since her arrival in Califorina in 1965, when her husband joined the faculty at Cal Tech, the author has become a part of its scientific community. Mrs. Kevles has written both science fiction and fact in the process of which she became "fascinated" with the new science of ethology, animal behavior. Her dook, "Watching the Wild Apes," published in 1976, reveals through the eyes of the scientists studying them the behavioral patterns of the great primates, set in a natural forest habitat. The book was selected the best on science for young adults by the New York Academy of Science in 1976, and the following year it was designated honor book in non-fiction by the Boston Globe-Horn. The author is planning a new book, "Gorilla."

John Kimbro

John Kimbro has many talents and is versatile in the field of communication. He is the author of many novels and states that he has published 53 at this time. He was a professional actor and director, and among his acting credits for foremost was a three-year run in "Oliver" with the original company on Broadway. Kimbro has had several musicals produced, and he has worked in television and radio. He is a native Southern Californian, was reared in Monterey Park and attended school in Alhambra and Pasadena.

Mrs. James E. Brown is chairman of the literature division and coordinator of the "Meet the Authors" event. She pointed out that the program was begun 13 years ago by Mrs. Bruce McAbery, a past president of the Woman's Club. Mrs. William Johnson has selected the authors and Mrs. Harold Shepherd will act as the day's chairman.

Mrs. B. Pierson Waite, president of the Woman's Club, stresses that reservations be made early, as the event usually draws a large audience. Price of the luncheon is $5, and reservations may be made with Mrs. Brown at 447-1710; Mrs. William Milner at 358-7657 or with Mrs. F. B. Knox at 357-4879 by the morning of Monday, Feb. 6.

Mrs. Milner will cater the noon luncheon, assisted by Wilma Johnson and Mmes. F.M. Kirk and William Fogwill.

Mrs. Leroy Blodgett will be in charge of the guestbook, and Mmes. Robert Lane and Herman Bauerle will handle tickets. Seating arrangements are by Mrs. Carlton Eckermann; decorations by Mmes. George Nicholson and Louis Taylor.

Table setting chairman is Mrs. James Goodwin, assisted by Mmes. Harry Hufford, Gene Lovegreen and Ernest Nellor. Mrs. Lovegreen will also be in charge of the group of serving hostesses, Mmes. Hufford, Wilma Johnson, John Milam, Earl Phelps, Goodwin, Nicholson and Harriet Leitz.

Book sales will be arranged by Mrs. Dale Patterson, Mrs. Milner and Mrs. Charles Ganther.

Juniors Deliver Meals To Arcadia's Shut-ins

ARCADIA -- For the third consecutive year, members of the Arcadia Junior Woman's club have continued to deliver meals to shut-ins through the Meals-on-Wheels program. For Valentine's Day, Juniors are making tray favors for all the recipients of this program.

Meals-on-Wheels is a non-profit, voluntary community service for those unable to prepare meals for themselves. This is a community program coordinated by the American Red Cross, Arcadia Chapter. Meals-on-Wheels is dedicated to helping the disabled, aged and chronically or temporarily ill by supplying them with food at a nominal cost to assure them of a friendly interest and to help them remain self-sufficient.

Preparation and packaging of all food delivered by Arcadia Meals-on-Wheels is centered in the Methodist Hospital of Southern California, Arcadia, under the direction of hospital of Southern California, Arcadia, under the direction of hospital dieticians. Each delivery consists of a hot dinner to be eaten at midday, and a light supper for later. Meals are delivered five days a week between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

Juniors and other volunteers who make their rounds in Arcadia do more than deliver nutritious food. They assure elderly participants of a continuing friendly interest in their lives, while helping them remain self-sufficient.

Juniors to take CPR instruction

Members of the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club and their husbands will attend a CPR (Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation) class on Saturday, Feb. 25, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., in Lewis Hall at the Arcadia Methodist Hospital of Southern California.

Instructors and paramedics from the Arcadia Fire Department will conduct the class. CPR is a combination of artificial repiration and artificial circulation, which should be started immediately as an emergency procedure when cardiac arrest occurs, by those trained properly to do so. It has been widely used successfully for some time by doctors and nurses and allied health personnel, and it is now recommended that as many members of the general public as possible be trained in this technique.

Juniors throughout the state have been learning this technique and it has been adopted by the California Federated Women's Club, Junior Membership, as a state project.

Anyone wishing further information about the class may call Caren Laing, health chairman, at 446-7266.

Juniors Make Donations To Various Programs

ARCADIA -- The Arcadia Junior Woman's Club, has voted to donate the proceeds from the sale of Shriek Alarms to the Veteran's Hospital Birthday Package Program.

This program is designed to assure that veterans, who are without relatives or forgotten by same, will receive gifts on their birthdays and at Christmas time, and most important, to let them know that someone cares.

The Juniors also voted to donate funds to the Augustine Cruz family. Cruz was hurt in an automobile accident and as a result of injuries incurred, he is paralyzed and has lost his speech. He lives with his wife, 2-year-old daughter, and a baby is on the way. They have no means of support so must rely on donations to help with medical, rent, food and clothing costs.

Hotensia Coy, citizens concern chairwoman, also asked the club to purchase sports equipment for Camps Paige, Afflerbaugh and Glenn Rocky, which are probation camps in the San Dimas area for boys between the ages of 13 and 18.

GFWC prexy speaks out for homemakers

Today's unsung heroine is the homemaker, yet she receives few benefits and little security for her work, believes the president of the General Federation of Women's Club, Mrs. Harry Wagner Jr.

In this month's issue of "Clubwoman News" she writes: "It is (the homemaker) who truly holds the family unit together, plans and prepares the meals, tends the youngsters, runs the pickup and delivery service, mops and vacuums.

"But her 'round-the-clock services go unrecognized by laws which protect almost everything alive and growing, except women."

It is due time that there be broad reforms in estate and inheritance taxes, divorce and social security laws, she maintains.

In an attempt to alleviate the woes of at least the displaced homemaker — the woman who are forced into the job market because of their husbands' death, disability or separation — service centers are being organized.

These will focus on counseling, job training and job placement as well as help in money management, health and nutrition. The woman without funds will be given a stipend, $130 a month in California. Those with funds will be charged a fee to pay for part of their training.

After she finds a job, the woman will continue with counseling for encouragement.

In California, $200,000 has been allotted by the state assembly to establish such a center in the Los Angeles area.

"It is patently clear that a great deal remains to be done to ensure that women receive their just benefits on an equal par with men," concludes Mrs. Wagner.

"Many of these needs. . . will mean heavy, even bitter legal battles to achieve. But progress. . . is a rushing tide that will not be held back, and the time has come when the displaced homemaker must be recognized and rewarded for her contributions to society."

WOMAN'S CLUB BIRTHDAY — Mary Kay Waite, president of the Arcadia Woman's Club, prepares to cut cake she donated for the club's 64th birthday celebration.

Woman's Club fetes 64 years

The Woman's Club of Arcadia celebrated its 64th birthday at its April luncheon meeting at the clubhouse on First and Diamond Aves. The club, which was organized in 1914, was federated with state and district in 1920, and with general in 1924.

Following the business meeting, new offers for the coming year were elected, including Mrs. Waite, president; Lenelle Frye, first vice president; Okle Goodwin, second vice president; Diane Quon, third vice president; Christine Mallon, fourth vice president; Helen Taylor, fifth vice president; Helen Nicholson, recording secretary; Mae Brown, corresponding secretary; Caroline Ganther, federation secretary; LaVerne Milam, treasurer; Caroline Ganther, senior trustee; and Bernice Lovegreen, junior trustee.

Delegates and alternates to the April district convention were Mrs. Waite and Mrs. Frye as her alternate. Others were Carolyn Ganther, Helen Nicholson, Helen Taylor, Mildred Erickson, Helen Spoon, Bernice Lovegreen and Helen Spoon. LaVerne Milam and Diane Quon served as hostesses. Lu Milner, immediate past president, was chairman of credentials and registration for the district.

The state convention will be May 1 through 4 at the Disneyland Hotel in Anaheim.

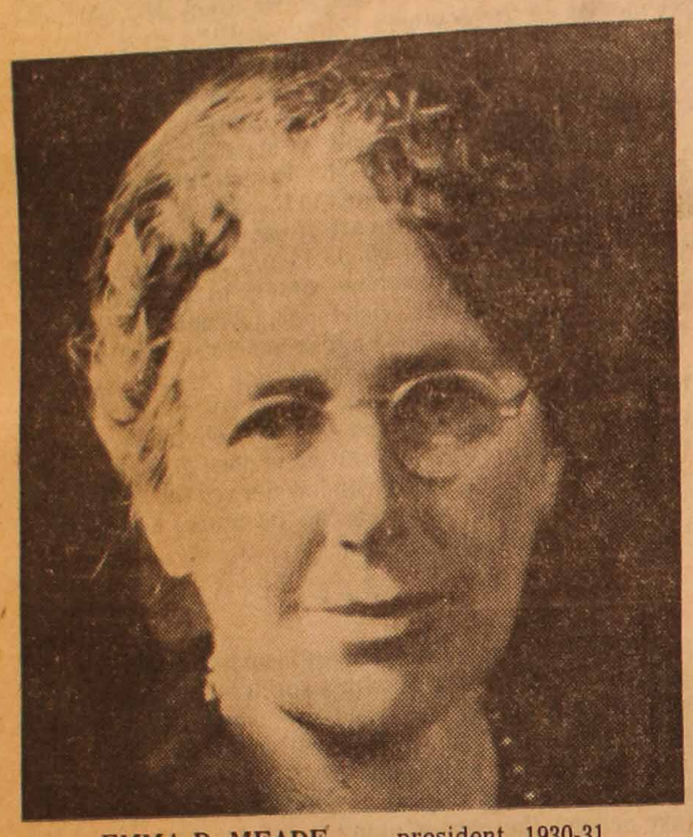
Civic Day marking Jubilee



EMMA D. MEADE . . . president, 1930-31

In celebration of Arcadia's Diamond Jubilee, members of the Woman's Club of Arcadia will dedicate their annual Civic Day, Wednesday, May 10, to observing the 75th anniversary of the city.

The Woman's Club goes back a long way — to its organization in 1914. At that time, as of now, its object was intellectual and civic improvement. The ladies of that bygone era were deeply interested in civic improvement to the point that their enthusiastic efforts were partly responsible for building the first City Hall in Arcadia (the one located where a drugstore stands today). As a reward for their collective efforts, members were allowed to hold their meetings at the new City Hall.

In 1926 the Woman's Club held the first Flower Show in the city and the same year saw the beginning of a Civic Beautification program.

The two lots upon which the Clubhouse, 324 S. First Ave., now stands were purchased form Anita Baldwin in 1930 for the interesting sum of $1,800. The Clubhouse was dedicated in July of 1931. The members were not above doing most of the work; they did their own gardening.

In 1937 the Woman's Club put on a galla dinner dance at the Turf Club. 500 couples attended the event.

This year, according to Mrs. Floretta Lauber, past mayor of Arcadia and a past president of the Woman's Club, who is chairmaning the day, the evidence will be produced. Historical scrapbooks will be on display for the city personnel, members and guests to view.

Mrs. Lauber will also reveal other pertinent facts at the noon luncheon. Mrs. Mary Kay Waite is completing her second term as president of the club and will introduce the day's chairman.

AT THE CHAPEL INN — The 1930-31 executive board of the Arcadia Woman's Club were entertained at the Chapel Inn, famed 30's hostelry in Duarte, in photo from the club's historical section. Many old photographs and scrapbooks will be on display Civic Day, Wednesday, May 10. Meeting is dedicated to Arcadia's Jubilee.

Arcadia Juniors Install New Officers

ARCADIA -- "Friendship Garden" is the theme Sue Newton has chosen for her year as president of the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club.

The installation ceremony, held at the Pasadena Hungry Tiger Restaurant, was conducted by Jill Beley, a past president and member of the club and president-elect of the Verdugo Metropolitan District, junior membership.

Newton is succeeding Marilyn Daleo, whose theme was "This Little Light of Mine." Serving with Newton are: Caren Laing, dean of chairwomen; Barbara Springer, assistant to the dean; Wende Minadeo and Romilda Lovrensky, co-ways and means chairwomen; Denise Hall, membership chairwoman; Carolee Larsen, corresponding-recording secretary; Peggy Sisson, federation chairwoman; Linda Dick, treasurer; Daleo, parliamentarian; Beley, press chairwoman; and Helen Nicolson, coordinator.

Club chairwomen are: Janice Knight, amenities and philanthropy; Daleo, build a better community; Vicki Banks, citizen concerns; Pat Huffman, bulletin; Springer, bowling and rentals; Laurie Wagoner, education; Cindy English, environmental protection; and Linda Peterron and Marjorie Milavec, family living.

Other chairwomen are: Karen Marshall, health; Beley, historian; Elizabeth Glyer, hospitality; Mary Ruth Rheinschild, inspiration; Kathi Shaffer, safety; Melanie Topalian, secret sister; and Karin Crawford, telephone tree.

Newton comes to the presidency after four years as a junior. During this time she served as dean of chairwomen for two years; ways and means chairwoman; youth, safety, bulletin, secret sister and telephone tree chairwoman; and handled the rental of the Woman's Club of Arcadia for two years. She and her husband, Tom, reside in Arcadia with their three children: Tommy, Laura and Jennifer. Newton is a member of the Arcadia Auxiliary of the Methodist Hospital of Southern California and is a roommother at Baldwin Stocker Elementary School.

Following dinner, new members: Mmes. English, Glyer, Wagoner, Elizabeth Roybal, Patti Smith and Alberta Ward were initiated into the club.

Sisson was honored as "Junior of the Year," an award given for service to the club. An engraved silver bowl symbolizing dedication to home and community was presented to her.

Guests attending were Mrs. Mary Kay Waite, president of the Arcadia Woman's Club and her husband, Bill; and Mrs. Carolyn Mears, a past president and honorary member of Arcadia Juniors.

Social chairwoman for the event was Dick and serving on her committee were: Springer, Shaffer, Topalian and Banks.

The Arcadia Juniors is a California Federated Woman's Club Junior Membership, for all women between the ages of 18 and 35. The objectives of the local philanthropic group are charitable, literary and educational service to the community. ART AUCTION — Wende Minadeo, ways and means chairman for the Arcadia Junior Woman's Club, and Sue Newton, president, show one of the many types of paintings to be offered at the organization's Art Auction scheduled for Friday, June 9.

Art Auction scheduled by Arcadia Juniors

The Arcadia Junior Woman's Club extends an invitation to the public to see, review, and perhaps acquire works of art by such masters as Calder, Dali, Rockwell and Curry. The club will host its third annual Art Show and Art Auction on Friday, June 9, at the Arcadia Woman's Club clubhouse, 324 S. First Ave., Arcadia.

The collection to be offered by the Robert Sills Gallery, Inc., consists of original lithographs, etchings and graphics which are signed and numbered by many of the world's most renowned artists. There will also be a variety of water-colors and original oil paintings from all parts of the world. Each work of art is framed and ready to hang.

The preview hour will be from 7 to 8 p.m. with the auction beginning at 8:30 p.m. Admission is free, and there will be a no host bar and hors d'oeuvres will be served. An original oil painting will be offered as a door prize.

Guests are asked to come early, receive a free catalogue, spend time studying, examining and questioning the personnel who will be there to assist. Proceeds from the auction will benefit the club's service and philanthropic projects. For further information about the Art Auction, please contact Wende Minadeo, ways and means chairman, at 446-3327.

Club honors city dignitaries

By CATHERINE MUNDY

CIVIC DAY — Civic leaders were guests of honor at the Woman's Club of Arcadia at the annual Civic Day observance with Floretta Lauber as chairman. Guests at the head table were Mayor Dave Parry who presented Mrs. Lauber with her past mayor's badge, and mayor pro tem Bob Margett. Others were Gloria Horstman, Board of Education president, and all four board members; Dr. Ed Ryan, superintendent Arcadia schools; Christine Van Maanen, city clerk; Lyle Alberg, city manager; Eva Rothenberger, club parliamentarian; Mary Kay Waite, president; Jim Helms, Chamber of Commerce president and Diamond Jubilee chairman and Mrs. Lauber. Councilman Jack Saelid had a previous "date", he was at Foothills Junior High PTA seeing his wife, Barbara, installed as president.

Mrs. Waite spoke of the pride that the Woman's Club has in its member, Floretta, who was the first woman mayor of Arcadia. She was presented with a full length photograph in color taken of her at the Chamber reception by the "unofficial" city photographer, Ed Castain. Mrs. Lauber said that Civic Day was dedicated to the Diamond Jubilee and that the club will participate in the celebration.

In reminiscing of the club's efforts for civic improvement since it was organized in 1914 by a small group of women, Mrs. Waite said the club is still a vital influence in Arcadia. In those years it was "the only game in town," and nearly all social affairs were given in the clubhouse, even Rotary had their meetings there. The club met in the city hall until the clubhouse was built. The two lots on First Avenue were purchased in 1930 from Anita Baldwin for $1800, and the clubhouse was built by a local contractor for $6,446. Mrs. Lauber is a past president of the club and was chairman for many years of the community improvement committee.

The entrance monuments to the city on Huntington Drive featuring all service clubs, was a two-year project of the committee. The flowering azaleas in downtown Arcadia were planted by the club in honor of the late Margaret Balser, a past president and a former first lady of Arcadia. Mrs. Lauber is chairman of the community coordinating committee for the Jubilee. Her special guest at the luncheon was Jewell High, the city manager's secrectary.
